01 Philosophy

Values

Objectives

Values

The Federal Court of Australia is a world-leading superior Court that is conservative yet progressive with a strong focus on business. We strongly believe in the principles of access to justice and are pioneering the transition to an electronic Court.

Our brand values act as guiding principles which help us to ensure that design, photographic and written communications express the integrity of the Court.

FEDERAL COURT OF AUSTRALIA

Objectives

The digital communications of the Court should provide users with an intuitive experience throughout the site that enhances our support of our community and facilitates access to existing services.

We aim to communicate the following standards by providing accessible, consistent and well presented content:

- Professionalism
- Quality
- Accessibility
- Confidence
- Contemporary & Current

Coat of Arms

The Coat of Arms remains a constant bridge between the previous Federal Court of Australia identity and the new online brand presentation.

Whilst the Court is exempt from compliance with Australian government branding guidelines, we firmly adhere to Coat of Arms guidelines.

Logotype

The weight and letterspacing of the logotype should never be altered in any way and it should never be presented without the established Coat of Arms.

Imagery

Photography is used as a valuable tool on the homepage displaying the entrance of each court building, a visual metaphor of each user's entry into the site.

Ensure that all imagery is of the highest possible standard, and sits comfortably with the look and feel of the refreshed Court style.

Shards

A strong representation of the modern architecture found in many of the Courts across the country is communicated through the use of graphical geometric shards.

The shards background pattern is a component which is intended to subtly add depth and quality to the content presentation.
